

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

We are excited to have Rachel Roberts and Dr Alex Tournier as our Keynote Speakers at AHMC 2018.

Dr Alexander Tournier BSc DIC MAST Cantab PhD LCHE RSHom

Executive Director of the Homeopathy Research Institute (HRI), an innovative charity dedicated to promoting high quality research in Homeopathy (www.HRI-research.org)

Alex has a 1st class degree in Physics from Imperial College, and a Master in Advanced Study in Theoretical Physics (a.k.a. part III) from Cambridge University. He wrote his PhD on the Biophysics of water at the interface with biological molecules at the University of Heidelberg in Germany. Alex also trained in Homeopathy at the Centre for Homeopathic Education, London and is a registered homeopath.

Alex worked for 10 years at Cancer Research UK (5th institute worldwide for molecular biology) as a researcher working on problems at the interface between biology, physics and mathematics. Alex founded the Homeopathy Research Institute in 2007.

Rachel Roberts BSc (Hons) MCH FSHom

Chief Executive of the Homeopathy Research Institute (HRI), an innovative charity dedicated to promoting high quality research in Homeopathy (www.HRI-research.org)

Rachel has a first-class degree in Biological Sciences (Physiology) from the University of Birmingham. She graduated from the The College of Homeopathy, London in 1997 and practised privately as a homeopath until 2012. Rachel has lectured in Homeopathy and medical sciences at various colleges in the UK and overseas. Her materia medica flashcards (the 'Mat Med Cards') were described as a 'great contribution to Homeopathy'. Rachel's move from practice and teaching to the field of research began with the post of Research Consultant for the Society of Homeopaths from 2008-2012. She joined HRI in 2010 and now works for the Institute full time. In 2013 Rachel was awarded an Honorary Fellowship by the Society (FSHom) to acknowledge her outstanding contribution to Homeopathy.
